

The Big Dance Off

On Thursday 6th February the Dance Group took part in a competition to try and get through to the regional finals in Birmingham in June

Radford Academy's dance troupe developed a vibrant and dynamic dance routine. Fusing styles from various cultures, and using folk music as a stimulus, they created a dance piece which celebrated a wide tapestry of cultures.

Their dance included traditional Bhangra, which originated in the Punjab in India around 1954, and African traditional dance.

Combining sound with movement they tell the story of villagers reaping crops at harvest time.

Their spicy routine was both energetic and colourful and left the audience tapping their feet with delight.

A total of 29 school took part and we were very successful in being placed 4th and will now take part in the regional finals in June- Well done to all of our dancers and to Joy and Pav for training them!
